INVITING

Ridgeland, located on the historic Natchez Trace Parkway and just north of the state capitol of Jackson in central Mississippi, is charming no doubt; however, charm is only the half of it. Ridgeland isn't all about sipping sweet iced tea on the front porch swing, this town is for the active traveler who desires outdoor recreational opportunities, flavorful dining experiences, and some of the state's finest shopping. How you choose to explore - by bike or boat, in shops or on trails, through touch or taste, inside or out, well that's entirely up to you!
