

Things to See and Do Near Stuckey's in Perry, Georgia

We're happy to announce that Stuckey's recently opened up its newest location in Perry, Georgia. Stuckey's of Perry is the first in what will hopefully be many in our effort to take back the American roadside and bring you the highway happiness that you've relied on us to bring since W.S. Stuckey opened his first pecan stand in Eastman, Georgia, 44 minutes west of Perry, in 1937. So, after you've relaxed, refreshed and refueled at our new Stuckey's location, hang around Perry for awhile and take in all the peachy things to see in and around Middle Georgia.

♦ Go Fish Education Center 1255 Perry Parkway

Go Catch some fish in the stocked pond and try out interactive fishing and boating simulators at the Go Fish Education Center in Perry. You also get the chance to explore Georgia's underwater habitats and wildlife including trout, largemouth bass and even live alligators. No trip would be complete without visiting the center's high-definition theater where you can discover Georgia's fishing traditions.

♦ Schultze's Old Fashioned Soda Shop 757 Carroll Street

Step back in time and cool your heels (and your taste buds) at the nostalgic Schultze's Old Fashioned Soda Shop for a heaping helping of all of your old soda shop favorites like egg creams, strawberry blondes and brown cows, or try some of their original frozen treats like the Tennessee Jack Sundae – a toffee ice cream laced with a smooth whiskey sweet sauce and garnished with broken Heath bars layered with caramel, butterscotch, and even more Heath bars!

♦ Allman Brothers Band Museum 2321 Vineville Avenue

Also known as The Big House, the Allman Brothers Band Museum was once home to the original members of the Allman Brothers Band and their families and friends from 1970 to 1973. The band spent those three years in The Big House writing and composing many of their most popular songs including Ramblin' Man and Midnight Rider.

♦ Allman Brothers Graves

Rose Hill Cemetery

Many of the deceased members of the Allman Brothers Band including the band's namesakes, brothers Duane and Greg Allman, their bassist Berry Oakley and drummer Butch Trucks are interred at beautiful Rose Hill Cemetery - a 50-acre cemetery located on the banks of the Ocmulgee River. This cemetery played an important part in the early days of the Band, as its members would often visit there to relax and write songs, including "In Memory of Elizabeth Reed", the band's first instrumental song that was inspired by a name that guitarist Dickie Betts saw on a headstone.

Warner Robbins, GA

♦ Museum of Aviation Robins Air Force Base

The museum houses over 85 historic U.S. Air Force aircraft, missiles, cockpits and award-winning exhibits including the recently added statue of Eugene Ballard, the first African-American pilot to fly in combat.

Fort Valley, GA

Lane Southern Orchards

♦ Lane Southern Orchards 50 Lane Road

Lane Southern Orchards has been growing the best tasting peaches and pecans since 1908. Stroll their Roadside Market and chances are the produce you're looking at was picked straight from the field just a few hours before. While you're at the market, don't forget to check out their wide variety of delicious, jams, jellies, dressings and a whole bunch of other Southern gourmet items to take home too.

With so many exciting things to do and see in and around Perry, Georgia, don't forget to make a Stuckey's stop going in or out of the city for a Stuckey's Pecan Log Roll or any of our other fine pecan candies. Why not also pick up a few souvenirs for the folks back home while you're there?

Can't make it to Perry? Then stop by one of our other Stuckey's locations near you or visit us at www.stuckeys.com to order some Stuckey's pecan snacks and candies to be delivered to your door.

Macon, GA

♦ Nu-Way Weiners 1602 Montpelier Avenue

Nu-Way Weiners is the second oldest hot dog restaurant in the United States and has been serving up numerous tasty hot dog variations since 1916. The misspelling in their name is a result of a less-than-attentive signmaker back in 1937. Nu-Way currently has nine locations around central Georgia, but we'd head for the Montpelier location to see the original 1937 neon sign on display there.

♦ Otis Redding Statue Near the intersection of Riverside & MLK

Most everyone knows Mr. Redding's famous song Sittin' on the Dock of the Bay but some might not know he grew up in Macon. The statue depicts him sitting with a guitar composing his timeless classic.

Vintage Roadside is a mom & pop business dedicated to celebrating the special places that make road trips fun and serves as Stuckey's Official Roadtrip Ambassador. Visit them at www.vintageroadside.com.
